

Coast Redwood

Sequoia sempervirens

This is the first redwood recognized by Seattle's Heritage Tree program. It was dedicated on December 16, 1999. Handsome, healthy, venerable and massive, this conspicuous landmark is beloved by generations of Franklin High School students. Unlike most of its peers planted in Seattle, it stoutly stands in the open rather than being crowded by other trees.

Coast redwoods are earth's tallest trees, native to the foggy coast of California and Southern Oregon. They live for many centuries, and thrive when planted in Seattle.
